of the experience we should all treasure.
Living in an area surrounded by the famed Blue Forest, we recall the days of old when brave knights roamed wooded hills. From the historical period when knighthood was in flower, we take our symbol the black knight. Our knight symbolizes valor, durance, and honesty--characteristics we hope to exhibit and encourage.

As you leave K.A.H.S., remember our knight and what he symbolizes. Never allow anyone to destroy these virtues you hold, for.....

Man delights in destroying virtues he has not,
But the virtuous
who stand ready conquer all things.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Schmidt and Mr. Skelton, the Senior Class of 1963 accepted the responsibilities and offices of school leadership with enthusiasm.

The first project was election of class officers: Jeff Grace, transferred this year from Stuttgart, was elected president; Beverlye Till, vice-president; Michelle Poulos, secretary; and Dorene Lockwood, treasurer.

Class officers brave cold weather for a visit to the schloss. Left to right are Anita Moffett, treasurer; Linda Mock, secretary; Jeff Croyle, president; and Bill Brewer, vice-president.

"Will the meeting please come to order!" With these words, President Jeff Croyle starts another meeting of the Junior Class. The main objective of this year's Junior Class was to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. This they accomplished in a variety of ways--bake sales, dances, concession stands, and a student directory. But work is not the only thing on Junior minds; there is a light side to life, too! All in all, next year's seniors are a fun-loving, hard-working group.

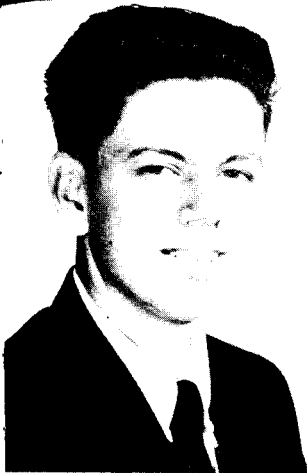

Junior Class

Juniors were always eager to support school activities. This group of students is "sending off" the football team at an impromptu pep rally.

Christmas Comes to Karlsruhe

"Deck the halls with boughs. . ." Seniors get ready for the holiday season by decorating homeroom.

At class parties the last day of school, dancing provided the main activity. And among the more "active" the twist is always popular.

Another party diversion was eating and drinking. These eighth graders seem to think it's almost as much fun as the Twist.

"Meanwhile, back in the jungle...." the Limbo was good for giving muscles a workout.

A dance fast catching on with teen-agers is the Madison. The juniors and seniors got together for this rendition.

Student Council

The Student Council worked very hard to establish itself in the minds of the student body as an organization which works primarily for the service and betterment of our school. Under the leadership of Karyne Miller, this organization sought to pave a way and set an example for councils of the future.

The main project of the year was laying the groundwork for a student store, K.A.H.S.'s first. The Council also set up a school-events calendar and was in charge of the lost and found department. A clean-up campaign was carried on throughout the year, and a new practice of sending a "Good Luck" telegram to the teams on all away games was begun. The Council sponsored an assembly featuring Karlsruhe' s first Student Council president as speaker.

Student Council officers are Cathy Horn, treasurer; John Wallace, vice-president; Judy Naas, secretary. Seated is Karyne Miller, president.

Class representatives discuss school and council activities.

Discussion goes on at the Honors Seminar even after the speaker's lecture. Here Mrs. Van Beek talks with Mike Cecka, who seems more interested in his Coke; Susan Lockwood; Jon Davis; and Judy Naas.

All staff members of the second edition of "DerKavalier" were inexperienced at the beginning of the year. Like all greenhorns the staff had to learn from mistakes, and there were plenty.

The energetic yearbook sponsor, Miss Schmidt, made sure the staff met those important deadlines.

"Knight Life"

Each month KAHS students were delighted to receive their free copies of "Knight Life," the result of much hard work on the part of Mrs. Van Beek and the newspaper staff. "Knight Life" was a definite contribution to school spirit, kept the students informed, and gave them a chance to express themselves. Especially unusual were the contribution box in the hall for aspiring authors not on the staff and the creative writing edition, which revealed much literary talent in our school.

N.H.S.

The Senior Chapter of the National Honor Society made a good start towards a successful year by inducting twelve new members on November 27.

Qualifications for the selection of candidates include scholastic achievement (minimum 3.0 grade average), service to the school, leadership, and character.

Under the leadership of the president, Michelle Poulos, assisted by Joan Tyler, vice-president; Linda Mock, secretary; and Frances Getek, treasurer, the National Honor Society accomplished many projects. The major projects were selecting the "Student of the Quarter" and "of the Year," holding the second induction ceremony in March, editing a booklet on parliamentary procedures, grading exams for teachers, attending several cultural events, and having a spotlight bulletin board. Mr. Dennis Thavenet gave valuable assistance and advice as faculty advisor.

The Knights Chapter of the Junior National Honor Society, though small this year, has been active. Many activities were planned to promote better leadership, scholarship, character, and service among the students.

When the boat docked, guests walked up the gang-plank knowing that this was a truly memorable occasion in their high school lives.

The court at the Prom included Karyne Miller, princess; Marilyn Milliger, queen; Jean McClain, princess; Bob Stroud, Bob Mushen, princes; and Bill Fitzgerald, king.

Football

The Karlsruhe Knights decisively won their last two games to climax a successful football season and capture second place in USAREUR class C competition.

After a rousing pep rally in the school auditorium, the team began the season by trouncing Bremerhaven, 25-6. The next week at Toul, France, the Knights smashed Toul, 24-6. After two impressive victories, the Knights travelled to Bad Kreuznach and stumbled to a 33-19 loss. After the B-K loss, Karlsruhe met the future league champions, Berlin, and lost by a whopping 35-7. Homecoming was the next weekend and since Karlsruhe has never lost a Homecoming game, the Knights were "up" for Bremerhaven. Game day was foggy, cold and windy, but the Knights outran the Black Hawks and emerged, victorious, 16-14.

Toul, whom we beat badly the first time, were much improved the second time and the Knights just slipped by them, 19-13.

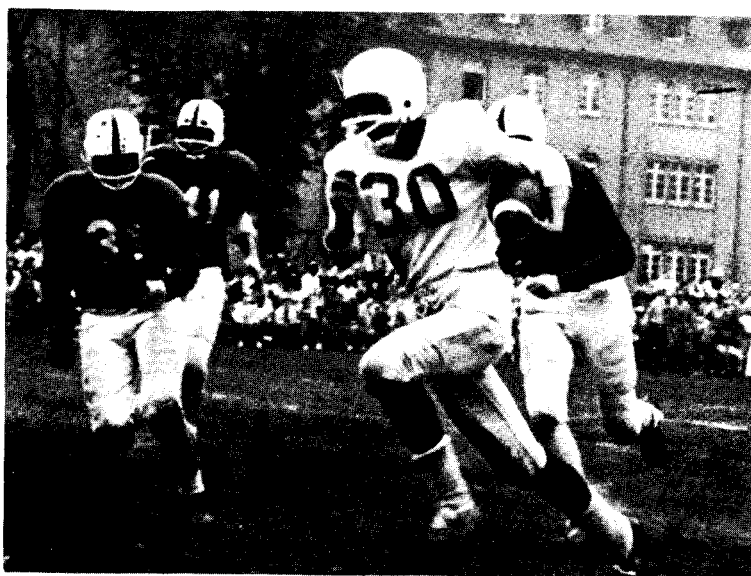

Charlie Horn, senior quarterback, and Larry Grandia, junior fullback, were elected permanent Co-Captains for the 1963 football season.

Wayne Meeker, Joe Ray, Mitch Shoffner, George Pitzer, Randy Heimann and Jeff Croyle converge on Toul runner.

They participated in all football and basketball home varsity games, also traveling once to Bad Kreuznach, leading and encouraging school spirit.

The varsity girls also coached the junior varsity team assuring experienced talent next year.

Basketball

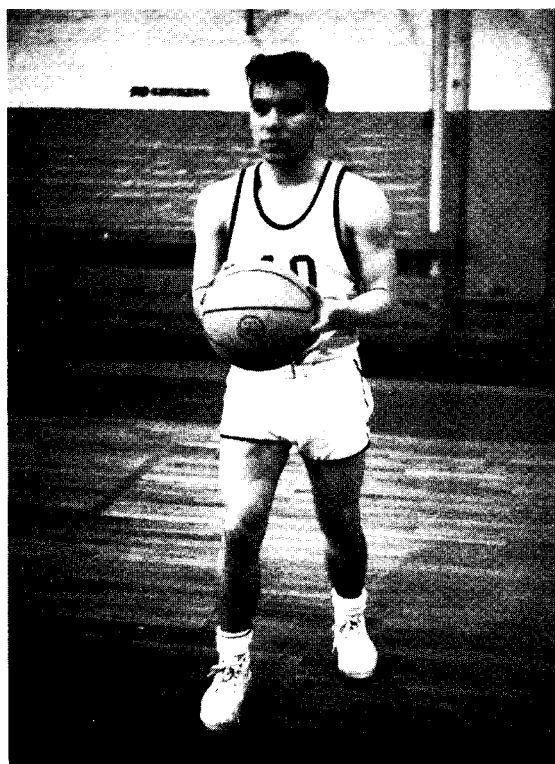

During the 1963 basketball campaign, Coach Steffen and his team seemed to be always on the verge of upsetting the leading teams and moving up to first place.

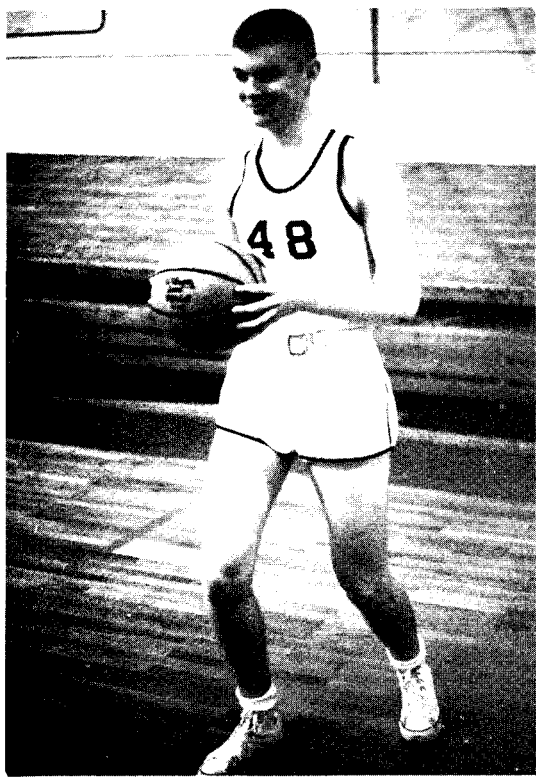

Developing late and losing several key games hamstrung Karlsruhe efforts for a league title.

Mike Anderson and Larry Grandia were frequent weekend team captains. The team elected a permanent captain at the season's end.

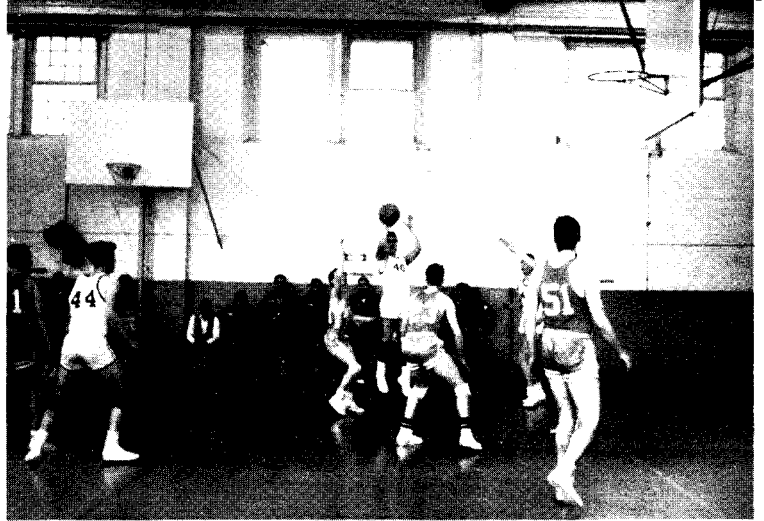

The team, composed mainly of juniors, always played hard clean games but lacked the polish of a seasoned squad. This year's experience will be a decisive factor in next year's campaign and Karlsruhe looks for a title in 1964.

The J.V. Basketball team suffered from many problems familiar to the Varsity. They had a very inexperienced sophomore team and were forced to learn the game while playing.

Bob Vasquez, George Wooden, Briccio Osio and Jeff Gerew were the regular members of the team. The J.V.'s scored heavily against Bremerhaven in the two big wins.

Their coach, Mr. Dickinson, expects varsity action next year for many of his boys.

Golf

The Karlsruhe High "fairway fools" under the tutelage of Mr. Jim Bailey chalked up a fair-to-middling record in USAREUR competition this year. At the Championships, held at the Garmisch Recreation Center, KAHS placed in the middle of the standings. The team was very happy, considering three of its members had only been playing golf a short time.

Senior Jeff Grace was the team leader and the only player with experience. His teammates were Bill Lockwood, Karen Wachendorf, and John Skinner, all freshmen.

The prospects for the next year look very good. Jeff will be gone, but Bill, Karen, and John will be tough to beat.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is designed to promote physical fitness in girls. Under the leadership of Miss Close, the club participated in numerous sports this year.

The fall activity was tennis. Michelle Poulos defeated Jean McClain to win in this sport. Winter-time the club went indoors and competed in volleyball, bowling, and basketball. In the spring came more tennis, as well as field hockey and basketball.

Jo Ann Wooden served as president; Carol Anderson, vice-president; Betty Shaw, secretary; and Jackie McLeod, treasurer.

Wrestling

Coach Robert Noll, mentor of the K.A.H.S. wrestling program, expressed great pride and enthusiasm over the large turnout and prospects for the 1963 wrestling season.

Approximately fifty boys turned out in early December, the majority sophomores and freshmen. Practice began immediately and Coach Noll with Frank Lewis and special instructor Ray Sparks, athletic director of D.E.G. and a champion wrestler, began drilling in the fundamentals of wrestling, preparing for an early match against Baumholder.

K.A.H.S. lost to Baumholder, then met Augsburg and split the series. An increasingly tough Karlsruhe wrestling team then traveled to Bremerhaven.

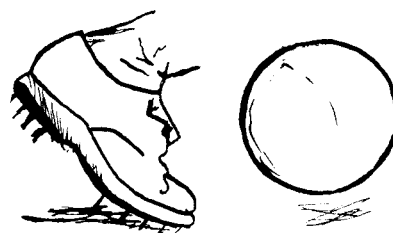

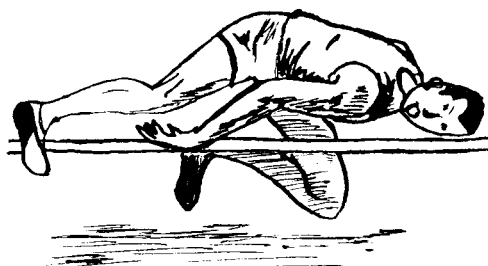

Each week Coach Noll named a match captain to preside over the weekend's match. The season was climaxed by the USAREUR Wrestling Tournament held in Wiesbaden.

Soccer

An impressive turnout of thirty boys showed up for soccer try-outs this year showing early promise for the 1963 season. Five returning lettermen formed a solid nucleus on which Coach Dickinson built the starting eleven.

Randy Bolt was the only returning letterman this year.

Junior High Basketball

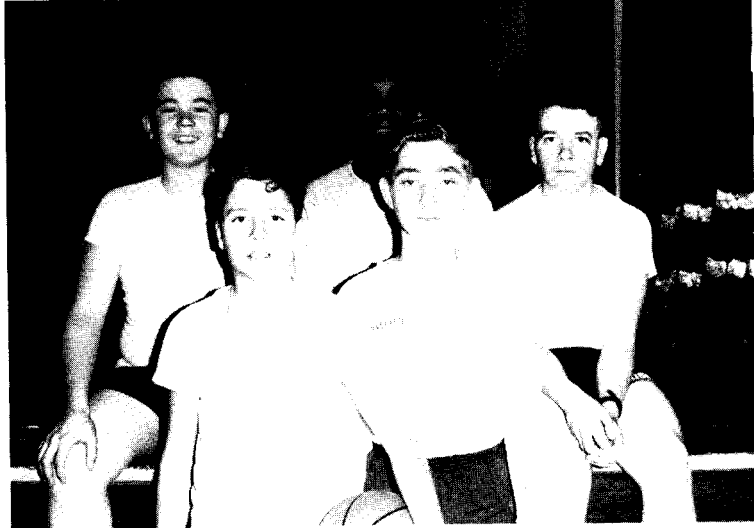

Most great basketball players can attribute some of their success to having an opportunity to play organized basketball before they entered high school.

Thirty-four boys made up the four teams.
